A STEP DOWN

John C. O'Brien of the Philadelphia Inquirer's Washington bureau tells about the press conference in San Francisco at which a reporter was asking one of the dignitaries the usual embarrassing questions about Poland.

"Are you from Tass?" the visitor asked.
"Oh," said the visitor, "Demi-Tass."—Editor & Publisher.

SITUATION NORMAL

"Does orange juice deteriorate in vitamin value after it has been extracted? Though mine out of ten housewives probably would say yes, the answer, according to the chemists of the United States department of agriculture, is an unqualified no."

Just the same we cannot help thinking of the scientists of the United States weather bureau. They work for the same boss as the chemists of the United States department of agriculture. But when nine citizens out of a thousand, say it is the hottest

July they can remember, the coldest March they can remember, the most miserable rainy May and early June they can remember, the weather bureau always raises its eyebrows in pained surprise.

Weather conditions for the weather bureau are always normal, and in this way it happens that when 99 people in a hundred say yes, the weather bureau says no, and when everybody says no the weather bureau says yes.—New York Times.

WIVES' POINT SYSTEM

A Clearwater war wife, after studying the point system devised by the army to determine which men should be released, has prepared a point system for the wives of soldiers. Here is her point system for women.

Ten points for every child of school age and 15 points for every child under.

Ten points for having a baby without its father being present.

Five points for every war-necessitated move.

Five points for every serious illness of a child which you saw through alone.

Ten pounds if you lived—without supplemental income—on the pay of an enlisted man.

Five points if you managed a way of living alone (or with another war wife) instead of going back to your husband's people or your own.

One point for every month your husband has been in the service.—Clearwater Sun.

County Commission—

The Port of Palm Beach reported on its proposed millage, with the same overall figures of 4.5 mills, divided as 3.25 for bonds and 1.25 for operation and maintenance, the Florida Inland Navigation District seeking one-quarter of a mill to be "used by the commission for all expenses in cluding the purchase price of rights-of-way and other property."

The board voted $300 to the Resources Development Board for a special publicity fund.

A letter was received from Senator Pepper's office stating that resolutions from the commission, seeking information regarding the future of Morrison Field, had been received, and that the board would be kept notified as soon as the government indicated its plans.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Unwin and children and Mrs. Unwin's sister, Miss Ruth Cochran, all of Panama City, arrived Tuesday for a visit with relatives in Pahokee.

L. L. Sturkey was a business visitor in Washington, D. C., this week. He was accompanied there by Mr. Daley of Tampa.

Lt. D. L. Fender of Hendricks Field, Sebring, spent the past weekend with his wife in Canal Point.

Lester Hatton, who is taking a three month training course in the Merchant Marine at St. Petersburg, visited in Pahokee over the weekend.

Frank Handley and Thomas Dickson, who recently signed up for service in the Merchant Marine, left last week to report for training at St. Petersburg.

The Pinellas County agricultural budget for the next fiscal year, which starts Oct. 1, includes an item of $2,000 for a Pinealis County exhibit at the Florida State Fair in Tampa, which is planned for February, 1946.

Black nylon bristles developed by the Du Pont Company are now being used in the manufacture of paint brushes used by the Navy. They were formerly made from hog bristles imported from far east.

More than 4,500 employees have been with the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company for over 20 years. 273 employees became members of the 20 Year Club this year, each receiving an attractive and highly prized club pin.

Cinematic Chatter

By Malcolm Millar

Who ever the "strip-teasing" is not a well-paying profession doesn't know what they are talking about! This art of tantalizing the male wolf's eyes with the delicate and well timed removal of feminine garments, hitherto considered the mystery of "La Femme", is the practical way for a young lady to get front-page publicity, meet personages, become a novelist, and finally reach the zenith of all young ladies desire. . . . The Movie!

Gypsy Rose Lee started as a chorus girl. She was shapely, and she was beautiful, and she went madly into the "girl in line" to the featured spot, of "strip-teaser" for excellence.

Gypsy didn't intend to stop there. She got an education, she met the best people, and she progressed. Miss Lee also had an excellent press agent, (I presume) for the began to be seen in the best magazines, on covers and within the pages of metropolitan newspapers.

Then she became a writer, writing "The G-String Murders" which was read under the title "Hurricane".

Now Gypsy Rose is to be seen at the Prince Theatre with Randolph Scott, Dinah Shore, Charles Williams and many others in one of the most lavish and beautiful of technical pictures under the title "Belle of the Yukon."

I saw it at the Everglades and A in Tops! Gypsy, you'll find, can act and she proves it in this very clever picture.

A double feature will greet you Tuesday-Wednesday. First picture is "Painting in Manhattan" with Jeff Donnell and Fred Brady starred, and William Wingard, Bogie Toomey and many other well known Hollywood featured performers assisting in the production of this comedy drama, which is laid in cocktail lounges, where leakers, with nothing else to do, plan and scheme.

In this piece there is a scheme for blackmail. However it backfires when the victim, under the advice of the police, marks the bills that he pays off with and starts a search which leads to the apprehension of the guilty persons.

Second one up is "The Youngest Profession." This one stars a little lady who has not appeared on local screens in some time. The young miss is Virginia Weidler, whom many will remember as the little girl in the high button shoes with the pigtail and the down-cast eyes, who always made such a bit with lovers of kids.

Miss Weidler has grown up now and she is certainly a beautiful girl, and knows how to act, too, with her will be seen the veteran of stage and screen Edward Arnold and his Guests. The picture is one you will not fail to like.

Thursday-Friday I see we will have Billy Gilbert, Semp Howard and Maxie Rosenbloom starred in "Crazy Knights", with Jayne Hazard, Tim Ryan, Bernie Fell, Fay Dunn, Miroslava Uresal, Hunter Brodie, and Art Miller in the featured spots.

This one is listed in the book as slapstick humor. It has as its plot a murder and of course one will expect to hear the lightning, howl, shrieks etc., with sliding panels, moving walls and even grave yards thrown in for good measure. But I'll bet you laugh yourself silly at the antics of these nut-comics.

Second on this bill is "Lake Placid Serenade". Vera Hrusa Hahnen, is a very charming ice skating star, and William Frayre are starred in this one with Vera Vague and Eugene Pallette and a very imposing list of names, such as featured players, orchestra, skating stars and singers and excellent support.

Plot has to do with an alien girl (Miss Holston) coming to the United States, falling in love with an American, and through a misunderstanding falling out of love. The lady gains fame as an ice skating star, in the finish of the picture, the young lovers are once more brought together, never to part (very happy) again.

Saturday brings Hopalong, William Boyd, Cassidy and Andy Clyde, with a very good cast of featured players in support, telling the story of the "Forty Thieves", which happens to be the name of the picture.

See you at the movies—Mail.

GOING UP!

...and so's
the temperature!

"Don't crowd, folks. It's just as hot on the fifteenth floor as it is down here on the first!"

Sad to relate, a store may have scads of red leather and chromium and modernistic trimmings, and still be as hopelessly old-fashioned as Grandpa's mustache cup!

A store or shop without modern air conditioning just can't compete with an air conditioned establishment. Customers prefer to shop in cool comfort. Rising temperatures usually mean rising sales in an air conditioned store because folks stay longer and buy more.

Come in now with your architect or consulting engineer and plan your air conditioning with the Belcher Industries . . . for Belcher will install your air conditioning system and guarantee the results for efficiency, low operating cost and lasting service!

By making your deposit now, priority of delivery is assured . . . giving you first call on Carrier Air Conditioning . . . the system which provides you with clean, evenly-distributed, draftless air of precisely-controlled temperature and humidity . . . day in and day out, summer and winter!
